Designer Water prides itself on being a family business. Larry and Karen Pelleg's son, Brian, is also an integral part of the operation. Along with their other employees, they look forward to continued success. They are proud to be an American owned corporation.

Priding itself on top-notch customer service and a top quality product have been some of the keys to success for Designer Water. Designer Water uses premium drinking water that is packaged in a heavy gauge bottle. "We believe that if you are going to put your company name on a product, that you deserve to have the best quality available," said Larry Pelleg.

Designer Water not only produces product for companies, they also produce product for special events. Having participated in the recent Bridal Shows in the Dallas, Texas area, they have been busy creating personalized bottled water for a multitude of upcoming weddings.
