

Designer Water Offers Unique Holiday Greetings on Custom Label Bottled Water

Personalized bottled water is not only for the promotion of businesses. Designer Water has orders placed daily for special events such as weddings, birthdays, birth announcements and family gatherings to only name a few.

(PRWeb) November 12, 2006 -- Designer Water, the custom label bottled water company located in Arlington, Texas, continues to grow its customer base and delivery area. In addition to the existing staff, Designer Water has added positions in sales and production/delivery.

Designer Water sets itself apart from the other custom label water companies by offering no minimum orders, no set up fees and no color fees. If a person wants to simply order one case of water, Designer Water will be able to accommodate with no extra fees involved. Delivery or shipment of the completed order is guaranteed within five business days from the time the label design is approved. With that in mind, Designer Water is quickly becoming many customers' first choice for their next business or social function.

Personalized bottled water is not only for the promotion of businesses. Designer Water has orders placed daily for special events such as weddings, birthdays, birth announcements and family gatherings to only name a few.

Customers can send their logo and/or photos and wording to the Designer Water office to begin the creation of their own personalized water bottles. Also available, for a reasonable fee, is the Designer Water on-site graphic artist.

On the Designer Water web site, www.designerwaterusa.com, customers can view several available templates for weddings. These designs can be customized to fit any bride and groom's upcoming event. Contact the Designer Water office to find out the best format in which to email photos and wording for a personalized memento of the special day.

Holiday templates are also available and can be emailed direct to customers from the Designer Water office. Companies can customize holiday greetings to be sent to their customers by utilizing one of the existing templates and placing their logo and wording directly on a bottle of water. Family gatherings can be more special with personalized greetings for the holiday's right on a bottle of water.
